EVENTS

- For those who attend the BOIS Reunion: Please email ava@deccnection.org IF YOU ARE BRINGING A GUEST so we'll order enough food. (We're requesting a voluntary contribution of $5 per guest, payable at the door.) We are excited to announce a reunion for folks who worked in/closely with BOIS (Business & Office Information Systems, located at TTB in Nashua, the group that marketed ALL-IN-1 and other fine products). Event is Wednesday, March 19th, 6:30 PM, at the Glenview Pub and Grill, 248 Princeton St., North Chelmsford, MA, 978-251-3591 . Appetizers will be served, full cash bar available. Other than the cash bar, there is no charge for this event for paid-up members. Cost is $10 to join the DEC Connection for 2014. To register, email ava@deccnection.org to let us know you are coming and then pay online by joining if you're not a member. To join DEC Connection, now go to this link and note BOIS in the Other Comments field. Limit of 35 attendees in our private room so get your reservation now! Please feel free to circulate this invitation to BOIS/TTB friends. Any questions to Jack at jack@deccnection.org or 1-978-897-2192. - From Theresa McKeown: So glad to meet DEC enthusiasts. DEC/VMS was my Holy Grail of Op systems. This feels like a rebirth! I moved on to SAP ABAP Devt and was so gratified to find a Devt system almost as well structured as VMS - my boat sailed again! tmckeown.tmak@virgin.net
- Will Babetski writes: I recently completed Solar PV Installer Boot Camp + NABCEP Entry Level Exam Prep course from Heatspring Learning Institute. Now a Solar Energy intern at the Wind Sun Institute (www.windsuninstitute.com) in Kingston, MA, providing green solar energy systems to residential customers in southeastern Massachusetts.

Tech Talk

Here is one reply to our question from January: Microsoft is going to end support of XP in April 2014. I am running Microsoft XP Pro. Can I upgrade (i.e. not a "clean" installation) from XP to Vista and/or Windows 7 with leaving my files and setting unchanged? If so, how?"

Here's one reply from L. Carlos Rodriguez www.dcu-inc.com.

the answer unfortunately is NO! Almost nothing on XP is compatible with the newer versions of the windows OSs.

However, you can take a windows 7 or windows 8 laptop and run a virtual machine under hyper-V with a virtualized copy of your windows XP, this way you don't lose anything and you can enjoy the wonderful world of windows 8.1.

the way to do it is by:

1. make sure your windows XP is updated with the latest updates, if not at least SP3, this allows hyper-V to enable the virtualization options on the VM
2. create an image copy of the XP system
3. create a virtual machine in hyper-V on a laptop with virtualization enabled and windows 7 or 8 PS: forget VISTA!
4. use the image copy of XP to boot into the VM machine
5. once the VM is up, then run hyper-V client tool virtualization options set.

Thank you Carlos!

In addition, Jack said several people wrote to him that he could try an application called PC Mover.
